WHY WE NEED THE NEW SCHOOLS

As you travel through the province you will note in town after town the red brick school built about thirty years ago, surrounded by a number of small one room schools. It will remind you of a hen and a bunch of chicks.

Our school boards are under a legal obligation to provide classroom facilities. There are two ways they can do this. One way is to make these small additions year by year out of current revenue. The other way is to issue debentures and build a modern up to date plant to be paid for over a period of years. If the first method is used the annual costs are comparatively light and you develop a plant that is far from adequate from the standpoint of a school, and is uneconomical so far as heating and maintaining is concerned. If you use the second method you get a modern up to date plant that the community can well be proud of. In addition to this you get the benefit of the government grant and the actual annual cost to the ratepayer will likely be no more than will be spent under the first method.

The Olds School Division is trying to follow the second method. If their by-law is voted down they will be forced to fall back on the first method. It is up to the voters to decide whether they want modern school facilities provided for their children.

Didsbury Contributes To Olds Convention

The Teacher's Workshop Conference in joint session with the 12th Annual Convention of the Alberta Home Economics Association was held in the Olds School of Agriculture on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 20 and 21.

The Workshop was the first of its kind to be instituted in Home Economics in the Province and much credit is due the School Boards and Principals who co-operated with the Department of Education in making it possible that such an endeavor should be made available on a school day.

Contributions of handicrafts from different Home Economics centres were on display.

U.M.C. PRESENTS DUST OR DESTINY

Did you know that during a lifetime the human heart pumps enough blood to fill a string of tank cars fifty miles long? That is just one of the startling facts revealed in the scientific-religious film, "Dust or Destiny", to be shown in the United Missionary Church, Didsbury, Sunday, November 5, at 8:15 p.m.

Produced by the Moody Institute of Science, Los Angeles, California, under the direction of Dr. Irwin Moon, the film has been shown to millions of people in universities, high schools, military bases (service clubs and churches).

The film, "Dust or Destiny", opens with a sequence of pictures which graphically portray the wonders of the human body. Then follows a 500 mile race illustrating the uncanny flight instincts of the homing pigeon, as well as scenes of the Pacific golden plover which flies 2,000 uncharted miles over open sea from Alaska to Hawaii, and the arctic tern which flies more than 22,000 miles in its flight from the north pole to the south pole and return.

The star performer of the production is Mickey, one of the many bats which demonstrate that radar is the bat's secret guide which enables it to avoid all obstacles in flight.

"Dust or Destiny", with these and other wonders of nature, is a film you should not miss. There is no admission charge for this fascinating "sermon of science" but a free-will offering will be received for the producers, the Moody Bible Institute.

Town Suffered Many Fires In Early Development Days

Like most towns in the west, Didsbury suffered by fire losses. Frame structures and poor fire fighting equipment are to a great extent responsible for fire outbreaks in 1910 the 100 bbl. flour mill together with elevator storage of over 50,000 bushels was completely destroyed by fire of unknown origin.

Several years later Mr. Ballard's cannery was the victim of flames, as was the Methodist church in Lacombeville. Following was the lumber yard fire east of the tracks. On the year's close of 1913 and the New Year dawn of 1914 Didsbury suffered a most disastrous burn up. The business section of the two main blocks was completely wiped out including two hotels and livary barn up a side street. Also in the spring of the same year the lumber yard, blacksmith shop, restaurant, and implement business in the south end followed. This left Didsbury in ruins. The Town Council immediately passed a law forbidding re-building with anything but brick, tile or concrete.

The cannery built by R. LaBouc replacing the structure previously burned, was again destroyed by fire, also an elevator of 35,000 bush capacity owned by the U.G.C.

In 1923 a large hardware store and a clothing and shoe store were again completely destroyed by fire and immediately rebuilt. In 1934 the Evangelical Church was destroyed on Christmas Day due to a short circuit in the attic. The furniture was saved, though the windows very high and cold. Then again in 1948 the Rosebud Flour Mills including the cereal and feed department was a total loss by fire of unknown origin during the night. Only the blending and mixing plant was replaced together with a packaging department.

Other fires of minor nature periodically occurred, some a partial, others a total loss. Didsbury seems to have a very high incidence of fires causing heavy losses. Nevertheless, it has contributed its quota toward the development of the west.

Letter to the Editor

The Editor,

Didsbury Pioneer.

Dear Sir:

Saturday, November 4, has been set aside as Legion Day and the Didsbury and Westcott Troops of the Boy Scouts will be canvassing the towns of Didsbury and Carstairs in an effort to have every citizen of the Area wearing a poppy and every store in the towns display a wreath.

When we display these emblems of remembrance made by the hands of disabled veterans who offered themselves in our defence, we remind ourselves and our children of the terrific price that has been paid for our freedom, and also show the world that these heroes and what they died for shall never be forgotten by us.

The funds contributed by the public provide more employment for disabled veterans, help veterans, their widows and orphans to obtain a just recognition in the form of pensions and allowances through the Canadian Legion Service Bureaus. This fund is also built up in our local Legion branch to assist our own Veterans Welfare Committee, and to aid those in distressed circumstances. The Didsbury Branch of the Canadian Legion appreciates the generosity and co-operation of our citizens in the past and as chairman of the 1950 Campaign, I solicit your wholehearted support.

Yours Sincerely,

K.G. Thring

Selling Cattle

All interesting innovation in the Calgary Stock Yards was started a few months ago, that is the selling of the cattle by auction. Now two sales are carried on at the same time in the Calgary yards. Although this is new in Calgary, in the Old Country this method has been used for a long time. Since the start in Calgary this method is spreading to other stock yards.

It would seem to be a satisfactory method for both buyer and seller and responds to the "Law of Supply and Demand" better than the old method.

Frozen Wheat

The following article is prepared through the co-operation of the Department of Agriculture, University of Alberta and the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

The large amount of frozen wheat of low quality in many sections of the west this year has resulted in numerous inquiries regarding possibilities and problems involved in disposal of this grain through livestock. At the moment it may be stated that experimental evidence and practical experience of many farmers show that frozen feed wheat of reasonable weight per bushel has essentially the same feed value as wheat of the milling grades. Further, provided a few simple feeding precautions are observed, frozen wheat can be fed with safety to all classes of livestock with results that compare very favorably with those obtained with a good grade of feed barley.

Suggestions

(1) Grinding:
Cattle—course grind or roll
Sheep—feed whole
Pigs—medium to course grind
(2) Mixing with other grains:
Rations containing a good grade of frozen feed wheat as the only grain can be fed successfully to all classes of livestock, but with such rations there is some tendency for animals to go "off-feed". Feedlot steers are best started on a mixture containing 50% or more of oats and gradually switched to a higher proportion of wheat over a period of three weeks to a month. If it is at all practical it is desirable for all classes of livestock to dilute wheat with up to 25% per cent oats or barley. The oats or barley need not be of high quality.

If the wheat available is severely damaged that is badly shrunken and of very low bushel weight, much better results will be obtained if this very low grade wheat is mixed with heavy grains—good quality feed barley or No. 5 or No. 6 wheat.

(3) Supplements:
Swine—If best results are to be obtained a wheat ration must be supplemented with adequate amounts of a good protein-vitamin-mineral supplement.

Feedlot Cattle—If the roughage mixture fed supplies 4 or 5 pounds of good alfalfa hay daily to each steer, no supplement other than salt may be required. When the roughage mixture contains no legume hay provision of one half pound of linseed oil meal or other protein supplement per steer, especially during the finishing stage, will help to reduce digestive disturbances and aid in preventing the cattle from going "off-feed". A mineral box filled with a mixture of equal parts of salt and ground limestone or salt 50 lb., limestone 30 lb., any bone meal or other phosphorus supplement 20 lb., pays big dividends in the feedlot, especially when the roughage fed is grass hay or oat bunks.

(4) Hay Plus—In some areas a combination of hay plus frost has resulted in wheat crops in which such a small percentage of the heads are filled that it may not pay to thresh the crop. Wheat bunks of this kind (put through a cutting box) have considerable value as feed for cattle, horses or sheep that are being roughed through the winter. They also may be used as part of a roughage mixture for cattle in the feedlot.

TO MUCH WASTAGE

If rejects in normal manufacturing waste to run over two or three per cent, management would have cause for serious alarm. Yet in the secondary schools of Canada, less than half of the students who start reach the graduation stage.

Quoting from the recent report of the Canadian Research Committee on Practical Education, Dr. G.E. Hall, president of the University of Western Ontario, in a recent address, pointed out that even among the better-than-average students, about 25% failed to complete high school. In the average intelligence group the proportion was 60% of the boys and 50% of the girls.

It is not lack of finances that is responsible for this poor showing. The main reason, reports Dr. Hall, is lack of interest in further schooling on the part of the students themselves.

A compliment is the pause that refreshes.

WHY TOWNS ARE HARD UP

From some new tax information issued from Ottawa the Financial Post reports these interesting comparisons. Before the war the federal government took 48% of the total tax take, now its share is 67%. The provinces used to get 22% compared with 20% today, but the municipalities whose share before the war was 30% now are squeezed down to 12% of the total taxes paid in Canada.

Says the Post: "The basic laws under which we are now fumbling along are designed for a society very different from today's. Continuing with the present situation of chronically money-starved municipalities, most of them with a poor tax system, doesn't make sense."

Mrs. Hector Lamont To Have Legs Amputated

Mrs. Hector Lamont, the former Mary Gordon, has made another big decision in her life. She will have her legs amputated.

Mary has been a paraplegic for 11 years since she was injured in a trapeze accident at Charlotte, North Carolina in 1939. She spent seven years in the Holy Cross hospital in Calgary and at Banff.

The girl, who has been admired by Canadians for her spirit during the past decade, made an important decision that effected her life only last year. She was married to H.J. Lamont, an express employee of the Canadian National Railways in Calgary. They reside in Bonaville. Mary announced the forthcoming operation in Charlotte last week, where she and her husband are holidaying. She is visiting the people who befriended her in 1939, when she spent four months in a Charlotte sanatorium.

The operation was confirmed in Calgary by Dr. A.C. Walsh, orthopedic surgeon, who plans to amputate the legs at Holy Cross hospital following Mary's return to Calgary in the next few days.

In Charlotte, Mary said, "I really don't mind losing my legs. I'm sort of looking forward to it. They haven't been of any use to me since the accident."

"I don't know whether I will get artificial legs or not," she said. "I've learned to get around very well in my wheel chair."

Mary was born in the United States, but following the death of her parents she was raised by an aunt, Mrs. Cyril Harris of Banff.

She was a trapeze artist in a show called "Deaths Holiday." The accident occurred as she was climbing up the rigging to the trapeze. She fell forty feet, breaking her back and severing the spinal cord.

The show, then being staged in Lenoir, N.C., went on, but Mary was never able to walk again as she was paralyzed from the waist down.

She spent four months in Charlotte sanatorium after her back was broken and since she had no family able to help her financially the Charlotte folks chipped in.

Even her friends in the thrilling show business got together and staged two benefits on her behalf.

Doctors told her she would never walk again and they were right, although her Calgary doctor, D.S. McNab, persuaded her to try walking on crutches, which she did for a few months.

Mary's legs were just so much dead weight to her, however, and since she had no feeling in them she was always having difficulty, injuring them without knowing it as she wheeled herself around in her chair.

"It was Mary's own idea to have her legs amputated," Dr. Walsh told the Albertan. She had suggested it to him about four months ago. He believed she would be better off without them as she has had considerable trouble with ulcerations and wearing casts to protect the "dead" legs had only proved an added burden for her to carry.

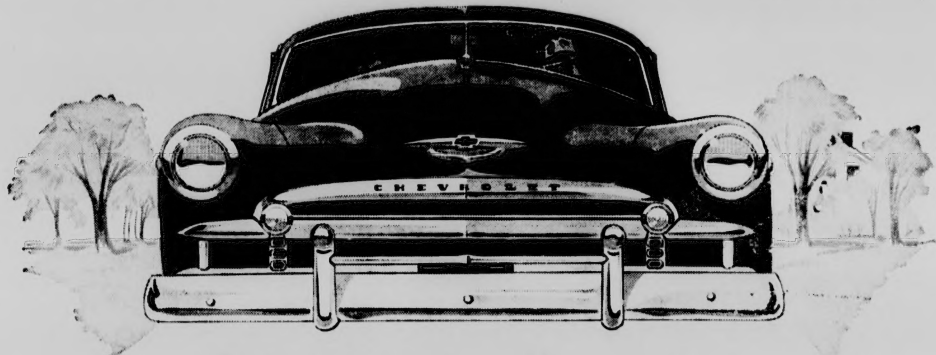

But despite the accident Mary has remained a wonderfully cheerful and courageous person, said a Calgary woman from the Mission district who befriended her in the Holy Cross hospital. —Albertan

Be Proud Of Your Business

Modern advertising is a necessity to hold and build business. Be proud of your business, of the goods you have to sell, of the services you have to offer in your particular line. Show the progressive spirit and the desire to serve by advertising. Do not hide your light under a bushel—proclaim far and wide who you are and what you have to sell and where your place of business is, for public memory is short, and advertising is a powerful aid to all types of businesses. Moreover, people as a general rule shop where they are invited.

INSURANCE NOT SAVINGS . . .

"Unemployment insurance is making bums out of some young men. They would rather take $18 a week in insurance than go where work is available."

This statement was not voiced by any reactionary, conservative industrialist. It is the considered opinion, recently expressed, of a man intimately acquainted with the operation of our Unemployment Insurance Commission, and one who is entirely sympathetic to the plight of those who are jobless through no fault of their own.

He must remain anonymous because he is a senior civil servant. But his views are worthy of study.

Far too many Canadians look upon jobless insurance funds as money which they, themselves, have saved and, therefore, money which they have a right to dispose of as they see fit. That, of course, is far from the case. Jobless insurance funds are not the sum total of the savings of all Canadian workers. If each contributor decided to quit work and draw all the unemployment insurance to which he or she is "entitled", the fund would be speedily broke.

While there are $85 million dollars in the federal unemployment insurance treasury, it is worth noting that in 1949, a year in which Canadian employment was at a high, the fund staged a very "close race" between costs and income.

Unemployment insurance is insurance and nothing more. It is intended to cover short term emergencies. It is paid out of funds contributed only one-third by the employee, and the balance by the employer and general tax-paying public.

Insurance is only good if it is paid out under sound business principles. It is not designed, and never was, to bonus idleness.

A BULL MOOSE "TRUSSED"

Writing in Rod & Gun a sportsman from Petotodiac, N.B., relates the following incident:

A few years ago I owned a farm in the hilly and wooded part of Saint John Co., N.B., about twelve miles from Saint John. On our lawn one morning we had a pair of moose, the bull the largest I ever saw with boards near the record for size and shape. I reckon. At about 20 feet my wife and I had a close view in safety from an open door. With a bound they rushed down the drive, crossed the road and jumped down into a deep gulley. After many grunts, etc. the bull came out the other side with yards of fence wire around him; then climbed the steep field for about one hundred yards, tearing down another fence on his way. Falling to go further he started to come back down. Finally with legs all fast tied together he fell in a helpless heap with broken bones I feared. They were, and still are, protected, and I could not end its misery with a bullet. I sent for the game warden who came with a Moutie. It was quite a job with wire cutters. When free it was weak and had many small cuts and boards broken badly.

PERMIT FARMERS TO TRAP BEAVER

The Government of Alberta announced last week that an amendment to the Game Act permitting farmers to trap and sell beaver from colonies established on their private lands.

The change in the Act results from an increase in the beaver population in Alberta.

Up to the present trapping of beavers on private land was prohibited unless the owner or occupant of the land could prove the animals were causing damage.

The amendment specifies that farmers can trap beaver between April 1 and May 15 on payment of $10 for a permit.

East Arctic Patrol Ends Ten Thousand Mile Trip

Sailing in the Transport Department vessel "C.D. Howe", Eastern Arctic Patrol have completed a 10,000 mile expedition to the Canadian North.

This was the 25th expedition of the Eastern Arctic Patrol, now a combined effort of six government sailing services as administration, medical, postal, hydrographic survey and welfare aids. The officer in charge of the Patrol was Alex Stevenson, (Verdun P.Q.) Arctic Division, Department of Resources and Development. He was assisted by G. Johnston (Ottawa) of the same department.

Members of the expedition visited fifteen settlements. The Patrol handled a large volume of mail, started 1951 census rolling in the Arctic and sailed as far as Dundas Harbour, 2,500 miles north of Ottawa. The Patrol sailed from Montreal July 17, and returned to base September 25.

Many passengers were picked up or dropped along the way, among them the Rt. Rev. D.B. Marsh, Bishop of the Arctic, Oblate Missionaries, Hudson's Bay Co. officials and Eskimos, moving from camp to camp. At River Clyde fifteen members of the Arctic Institute Expedition were taken on board. This party had spent the spring and summer of this year on a Baffin Island Glacier collecting scientific data.

The success of the Patrol this year was darkened by the loss of one of its members, the interpreter, S.G. Ford of St. John's, Newfoundland. Mr. Ford lost his life in the crash of a helicopter. Part of the equipment aboard the ship. He was a valued member of the Arctic Division, a popular figure throughout the northern lands, and a thoroughly accomplished Eskimo linguist. His loss has been keenly felt by many Canadians.

At each port the doctor, J.E. Osborne (Edmonton), s.m.d., on the Patrol, examined the Eskimos. Dr. R.S. Robertson, a Cobourg, Ont. dentist, was kept busy checking, extracting and fitting teeth for Canada's northern citizens, whites and Eskimos. This year, with modern equipment, more than 1,000 Eskimos were checked by x-ray. The general standard of health was good and there was a remarkable improvement in the children. This was due to the effect of nutritious foods given in payment of family allowances which are intended to supplant the regular Eskimo diet of fish, fowl and fish.

Members of the Patrol, this season organized plans for the task of taking the 1951 census in the Arctic. This will be carried out under the immediate direction of the I.C.M.P. and must be completed by shipping the next summer. Meanwhile R.M.P. consultants throughout the north are busy pondering one of the toughest census assignments of the lot that of tabulating some 3,000 nomadic Eskimos scattered over thousands of square miles of the Arctic.

Members of the party declared that the polar weather had been wonderful. Sunny Skies, light winds and calm seas were the order of the day. They were amazed to learn that southern Canada had experienced such a cold summer.

GREENBUG HITS FALL RYE

Greenbug has destroyed about one thousand acres of seedling fall rye in northern Saskatchewan and severely damaged several fields in the northeast part of the province, but no losses have been reported in the more southerly areas, according to a report from Canada Department of Agriculture's Division of Entomology at Saskatoon.

An outbreak has been reported from the Swan River area of Manitoba where 300 acres of fall rye have been destroyed.

view, and specialists of the various companies gave enlightening information on their products. The Delnor Frozen Foods provided a sumptuous banquet for the one hundred and thirty Home Economists who were in attendance. The provisions for foods for afternoon teas and midnight snacks were provided by H.J. Heintz Co. of Canada, Edmonton Milk Foundation, Northern Alberta Dairy Pool and Independent Biscuit Co. Ltd.

One of the highlights of the convention was the "Uniform Fashion Show" under the sponsorship of Mrs. M. Kimmitt, Home Economist for Didsbury and Olds. Mrs. Kimmitt indebted to J.V. Berscht and Sons, Dry Goods Department, Didsbury, who provided several uniforms for the occasion.

Other worthy contributors were the Mercantile Co. under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Ragosin, Mr. and Mrs. Markel of the Markel Ready to Wear Store, Miss G. Cavell, Dietician at the College and Mrs. Lesker who modelled, and the many teachers throughout the province who entered school uniforms.

Instrumental in the high success of the show are Mr. E.T. Wiggins, principal of the Didsbury school and Mr. H. Fergus principal of the Olds school who made it possible for a team of Home Economics students to be on hand to model uniforms and aprons.

Mr. Gole kindly consented to make transportation available for the Didsbury students.

The festivities of the program were accompanied by entertainments under the directorship of Mr. D.C. Falk of the Vermillion School of Agriculture and the assistance of the principal of the Olds College, Mr. C. Yatch, and members of his staff made the convention the best in its history.

Mrs. Margaret McGregor Hard, Assistant Professor, Foods and Nutrition, Washington, State Agricultural Experiment Stations, Pullman, Washington, was the guest speaker who chose as her topic: "Nutrition, Internationally Speaking."

RATS ARE HITCH-HIKING WEST.
WATCH FOR THEM

Under the provisions of the Agricultural Pests Act, rats were declared pests by the Provincial Government. Under the Act, failure of land owners or operators to destroy rats found on their property will be considered an offence.

Alberta, up to the present is considered to be the only rat free province, but it will take eternal vigilance on the part of every citizen to keep it so. Recent reports of a live rat found in a box car at Edmonton, and other reports of dead rats being found in box cars at various points in the province bear out the statement that rats are hitch-hiking into the province.

Description:—The Norway rat, "Rattus norvegicus" (not yet established in Alberta), is variously known as the brown rat, barn rat, house rat, domestic rat or sewer rat. It is brown to grey in color, large, heavy body, blunt nosed, with relatively small ears and a thick, rough, tapering tail not quite as long as the body. The body is about nine inches long and the tail approximately seven inches, giving an overall length for the adult rat of about sixteen inches.

Habits:—It lives in close association with man, generally infesting the lower floors and basements of buildings. It is essentially a burrowing animal and by preference it lives and breeds in excavations. In Western Canada the rat also infests urban garbage dumps and nuisance grounds, as well as farmsteads in rural areas.

Rats are responsible for loss and damage running into staggering figures so it is very important that everyone, school children as well as adults make it their business to see that rats do not invade Alberta.

The Municipal Council at a recent meeting, in compliance with a request from the Department of Agriculture, has appointed a committee to deal with the rat menace if and when the need arises. The Field Supervisor and Councilors W.H. Metz and Wm. Bagnall comprise the committee. They will appreciate having reported to them if anyone suspects the presence of rats in their district, and appropriate control measures can then be taken.

Dawson Creek Now Enjoys Natural Gas

"Dawson Creek, B.C. on parallel 36, Mile Zero on the Alaska Highway, held a grand Halloween (October 31st) party to celebrate completion of the natural gas pipeline by Westcoast Transmission Co. from wells just within the border of Alberta.

The event was looked upon not only as of importance in hastening development of the great Peace River agricultural empire, but also as the first step in what may, in the near future, become a most valuable assistance in defence of the Northwest and Coast areas.

The then-far-off town of seven or eight years ago, when tens of thousands of U. S. troops landed there to start and complete in record time the biggest job of its kind ever undertaken, has become the first B.C. community to be served by gas from Alberta and the most northerly so served on this continent, or in the world, as far as known.

Westcoast Transmission Company which built the line, its affiliates Pacific Petroleum and the Peace River Natural Gas Co., and the Dawson Creek Chamber of Commerce, were hosts to the 4000 townsfolk and hundreds from other points on the main highways east to Edmonton and north on the Alaska Highway.

School children to the number of 1000 made a great day of it, huge quantities were liberally distributed and in the evening an official welcome was extended by Westcoast at a banquet. A public

Ship 22,000 Pheasants From Brooks Hatchery

The purpose of the Provincial Pheasant Hatchery at Brooks is to distribute the pheasant population in Alberta. The hatchery is operated by the Game Branch of the Department of Lands and Forests. It was opened in the spring of 1945 and since then 22,000 pheasants have been shipped to various Alberta centres from Brooks.

Government officials plan to expand the hatchery in order to provide 8,000 birds each year. Hatchery operations began with 12 brooder houses, and two incubators. This provided a 6,000-egg capacity which was doubled the following year. Next year it is hoped to have a capacity of 8,000 chicks when the number of brooder houses will be increased to 41. The operations will require about 16,000 eggs.

Brooks was selected for the pheasant hatchery location because of the access to eggs in the district. Pheasants were imported to Brooks area from the United States 25 years ago. The pheasants are distributed to centres throughout Alberta known to be suited habitats. During the first year's program birds were sent to fifty centres. However, it was found that they were not successful in several districts, therefore, greater care in placing was exercised. Six to eight areas are stocked each year.

Pheasants nest chiefly along ditches and at the edge of willow patches. Some nests are found in fields. Most of the eggs are gathered by school children who are paid four cents per egg upon delivery at the hatchery. Many district schools visit the Brooks establishment during the hatching season. Gathering of the eggs usually begins the first week in May and continues for about two weeks. Hatching the eggs requires 21 days. When the birds are hatched they are kept between eight to twelve weeks at the hatchery before shipment.

The pheasants are shipped in specially built crates with felt-padded tops. Usual mode of transportation is truck because it is faster than any other media. Last year, for the first time some birds were tested in outside enclosures, using clips on the wings. They progressed better than the pheasants reared in smaller enclosures.

An important part of the new equipment is the two battery brooders which will house chicks until they are ten days old. The great loss of birds is suffered in this period.

Pheasants are a prize possession of a hunter. It makes a magnificent object of sport to the upland shooter. The pheasant is wild, wary and well able to take care of itself. It definitely tests the hardihood

CHEESE FOR UNITED NATIONS CHILDREN'S LUNCHES

Earmarked for children's lunches and special child feeding programs, 5 million pounds of surplus cheddar cheese has been sold to the United Nations International Emergency Children's Fund. It was announced by the United States Department of Agriculture in Washington on September 29.

This sale is reported to bring the United States government disposals of price support cheese to 29.3 million pounds, of which 2.8 million were given away and 19.2 million sold on the domestic market.

and skill of the hunter. When brought to bag the pheasant is a treasured trophy and large enough to furnish a good meal on the table. The meat is considered a delicacy being similar to the turkey with a slightly wild taste.

Many American hunters come to Alberta each fall to hunt pheasants. The large game cock bird is beautifully colored displaying a narrow graceful pointed tail about 15 inches long. His back presents outstanding color in complicated pattern with maroon, cream, ochre, black and shades of emerald green, many of them metallic. The back is mostly green. The wing-coverts largely maroon, and the cape mostly ochre.

Manitoba Flood Fund Thanks Weekly Press

All Flood Victims Being Re-established

At the annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association held at the Chateau Frontenac Hotel, Quebec City, October 23-25, a resolution of thanks to the Weekly Newspapers of Canada was presented by the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund in appreciation of the part played by the Weekly Press in assisting in the rehabilitation of flood victims of the Red River Valley.

In presenting the resolution, at the annual banquet, attended by some 400 Weekly Newspaper editors from all parts of Canada, Cecil Lamont, Honorary National Organizer of the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund, told how total contributions to the Fund had reached $2,775,000.00 in cash and in addition, donations in kind with a value of several hundreds of thousands of dollars, had been turned over to the Red Cross and other relief agencies for distribution to flood sufferers.

Mr. Lamont informed the editors that the following appropriation had been made from the Fund, to date:

Repair and replacement of household furnishings and effects, clothing, private automobiles, etc. $2,500,000

Compensation for out-of-pocket living and travelling expenses of persons who were forced to evacuate their homes on account of flood. $1,500,000

Aid to small businesses, market gardeners and fur farmers to cover losses of goods and inventory as a result of the flood. $1,000,000

Compensation to farmers for loss of livestock, poultry, feed, seed, grain and machinery lost or damaged. $1,000,000

A survey is now being conducted with a view to assisting churches, hospitals, private schools and semi-public institutions which do not come within the scope of governmental assistance.

As a result of the generous response from all parts of Canada, all persons who have suffered losses, other than structural damage, have been or are in the process of being compensated from the Flood Fund, and are able to resume their normal home and business lives. Structural damage to buildings is being taken care of by the Dominion and Provincial Governments. These Governments, along with the Municipalities, are now engaged in the construction of dikes to guard against future floods, where this is feasible.

The newspaper editors were informed that the total cost of raising the fund had been less than three-quarters of one per cent, which is believed to be a record low cost for fund raising. The small expenditure in raising the Fund was made possible through all services being contributed by those who took part in raising the Fund.

The resolution, presented to the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association and to this paper appears in the adjoining column.

RESOLUTION

To: The Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association and The Didsbury Pioneer.

From: The Manitoba Flood Relief Fund

WHEREAS during the disastrous Manitoba Flood in the spring of 1950, there was evidenced a desire on the part of the citizens of Canada and elsewhere to help in some way to relieve the distress of the flood victims; and

WHEREAS it was apparent that there was no agency then in existence which could give aid in such matters as restoring losses of furniture and personal belongings of those whose homes had been flooded; and

WHEREAS it was apparent that without such aid many families would suffer crippling losses and in many cases be rendered destitute as a result of the flood; and

WHEREAS the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund was set up, under the honorary chairmanship of the Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, the Premier of Manitoba, the Mayor of Winnipeg, the Mayor of St. Boniface and the Manitoba Consul-General of the United States to receive contributions from those who wished to help; and

WHEREAS local funds were opened in many municipalities throughout the country, in large part through the efforts of the Weekly Newspapers of Canada, with the sympathetic assistance of the Weekly Newspapers Association and the Provincial Divisions of the Association; and

WHEREAS the proceeds of funds so collected have added materially to the magnificent total received for aid to the flood victims of the Red River Valley; and such aid going out promptly has had a great effect in maintaining the morale of the people who have suffered so grievously;

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED

THAT the Officers of the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund extend to the Weekly Newspapers of Canada, through the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association in Conference in Quebec City, heartfelt gratitude and appreciation on behalf of the trustees of the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund and of the flood victims of the Red River Valley, for their heartwarming sympathy and their practical expression of it in their efforts on behalf of the Fund;

AND THAT the said newspapers be asked to extend to the citizens of their territories, the appreciation of the people of the Red River Valley for the assistance given, through the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund, for the rehabilitation of flood victims.

The Regulations apply to every person engaged in the business of selling consumer goods at retail on credit, in the business of making loans, or otherwise engaged in financing the purchase of consumer goods.

The following requirements will be in effect when retail sales are made on the instalment plan on and after November 1, 1950:

	Minimum down payment	Maximum time to pay
Motor vehicles (e.g. passenger automobiles and motorcycles).....	33 1/3%	18 months
All other consumer goods.....	20%	18 months
In no case shall the down payment be less than $5.00.

INSTALLMENT PAYMENTS are to be in regular, approximately equal, amounts of not less than $5.00 monthly or $1.25 weekly. Instalment payments may be varied to meet the circumstances of persons such as farmers and commercial fishermen whose incomes are subject to seasonal fluctuations.

Similar terms apply to loans granted by banks or loan companies for the purpose of purchasing consumer goods at retail.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS ARE INCLUDED WITH REGARD TO REVOLVING CREDIT ACCOUNTS, permanent budget accounts, current budget accounts, and similar plans involving payment for goods by regular instalments.

ORDINARY CHARGE ACCOUNTS ARE NOT DIRECTLY AFFECTED by the present Regulations, but steps will be taken, if necessary, to see that charge accounts are not used to evade the regulations relating to instalment sales.

THE REGULATIONS REQUIRE SELLERS, LENDERS AND FINANCE COMPANIES to maintain records of transactions, to make them available for inspection, and to furnish information on request to authorized representatives of the Government of Canada.

CONSUMER GOODS include all goods with certain exceptions. A full list of the exceptions will be found in the Regulations.

For example, the Regulations DO NOT APPLY to sales of real estate, stocks, bonds, securities, goods for professional or business use, buses, trucks, building materials, implements and equipment used exclusively in farming and fishing.

Penalties are provided for violation of the Regulations.
